ABOUT CIM SUMMER CHAMBER MUSIC

Directed by Sandra Shapiro, CIM Summer Chamber Music is a 10-day experience for pianists, string and woodwind students interested in exploring music outside of their solo venues. The rich and varied works available in the chamber music repertoire provide endless opportunities to explore and expand one's musical horizons.

Students will have the chance to meet and work with other young musicians of similar abilities and musical interests.

The course will combine coachings, supervised rehearsals, ear training, chamber music literature classes, rehearsal techniques, movement classes, public master classes and a final performance.

Students will be asked to play two pieces of contrasting styles and sight-read. String students should prepare a 3-octave scale and will audition without accompaniment.
